The French President Francois Hollande visited Theo, the 22-year-old who was beaten and raped by police officers in Aulnay-sous-Bois. The four policemen made a round, took the young Theo aside, "to prevent him from kicking" [?], according to One of the police officers. The young Theo was raped with the baton of one of the police officers. The reasons for Theo's arrest by the four policemen are still unknown, and the investigation will reveal it soon.

THE ARREST UNDER VIOLENCE OF THEO IN THE FULL STREET WAS FILMED BY AMATEURS-----

Four policemen were filmed during a heavy-handed arrest. The young man, who received 60 days of ITT (Incapacity to Working Notice) accuses officials of "rape in meeting". On Sunday evening three of the four policemen were placed under investigation for "voluntary violence" and a fourth for "rape".-----

It is an affair that shakes a whole neighbourhood. And even more widely. Thursday in the late afternoon, the young man Theo was hospitalised and operated after a police check called "muscled" by the police. Placed in custody, the four law enforcement officers are first accused of "rape in a meeting". But when a judicial inquiry is opened, it is for the facts of "violence aggravated in meeting".-----

Violence broke out at the city three thousand years ago where the young Theo, Aulnay Sous Bois, lived for three days, after rape, in solidarity for him. Some have thus expressed their anger by acts of violence (Cars burned, windows breakers of businesses and other degradation of the public way). Twenty-six people were arrested during the night from Monday to Tuesday, some for "armed gangs". "In view of the events of last night, the device will be further strengthened Tuesday night," said the National Police. The numerous mothers of the young people of this district of Aulnay made silent marches to reclaim the young people to return to the calm. The members of Theo's family such as his brother and sister have testified on the French TV, very poignant calling to calm the attention of the breakers, angry because of what happened to Theo.

PRESIDENT HOLLANDE VISITS THEO TO THE HOSPITAL AND WELCOMES THEO'S WISE REACTION AND PEACEFUL MESSAGE

François Hollande went to the Robert-Ballanger Hospital in Aulnay-sous-Bois on Tuesday afternoon to visit Théo, where the 22-year-old was treated after being assaulted by the four policemen suspected of Rape. Theo is bedridden, with an infusion and carries a plastic bag to evacuate his digestion, replacing his natural anus, "non-functional" since the rape.

President Hollande spoke before the cameras of the newspaper La Parisien and photographs. "Justice has been seized, we have to be confident it will go to the end, and make the decisions and make sure the truth is known but we also have a thought for Theo, which has been described to have always In a family which is also in the neighbourhood of Aulnay, who wants to live in peace and in trust with the police too. I think Theo also wants to send a number of Messages.

Theo speaks: "Thank you, Mr. President, for coming to see me, it's nice of you, I do not hear the information right now, because I do not want to dive in. But my city I like it very much The guys, and I'd love to find it as it was when I left it, please. It's not war, guys, be united and trust in justice and justice will be Made, and especially pray for me (He puts his hand on the heart) and be soon among you. " The President Hollande congratulates Theo for his peaceful and wise message.
