THERE IS NO PLANET B AS SAID BAN KHI MOON AND AS SAYS IT JOHN KERRY

ATLANTIC COUNCIL CREATED ROAD TO COP21

Paris, Washington DC, 15.03.2015, 10:57 Time

USPA NEWS - U.S. Secretary of State John Kerry declared about the future Atlantic Council inauguration: "Gambling with the future of Earth itself when we know full well what the outcome would be is beyond reckless. It is immoral and poses a risk that no one should take. We need to face reality.

CLEAN ENEGRY ECONOMY NEEDS LEADERS WITH POLITICAL COURAGE------

Unlike many global challenges, this one has a ready-made solution: energy policy. By making the right choices now, we can actually prevent the worst effects of climate change from crippling us forever. We have time to prevent the worst consequences, but only if we make the switch to a global, clean-energy economy a priority and think more creatively about how we power our cars, heat our homes, operate our businesses. It really is as simple as that. But getting there is proving not to be as simple.

The 68th U.S. Secretary of State, explains the importance of clean energy as not only the solution to climate change. He said "It is also one of the greatest economic opportunities of all time. If we take action on climate change, we will create an extraordinary number of jobs and kick economies into gear all around the world. We have the chance to take advantage of one of the biggest business opportunities the world has ever known ".
