A SPACE DEDICATED TO REFLECTION AND EXCHANGE OF IDEAS AND SHARING OF EXPERIENCE FOR THE FUTURE

-----"The Planetworkshops" thus aims to stimulate reflection on sustainable development in industrialised and emerging countries with practical proposals and resulting on an original and international (63 nations represented from the 5 continents) in a less conventional approach. All actors attended and participated to the Global Conference, in Chantilly, with different perspectives, origins, expertise in various sectors such as Public Affairs, Research&Development, Blue Chip companies, politicians, students, farmers, ecologists, activists, and even spiritual groups. As every year, the main topic will be discussed and tackled from many perspectives, during the entire three days of conference, thanks to several discussion modules: prospective plenary sessions, thematic focuses, best practices corners, garden talks, face to face sessions"|This year the main topic is "All Actors of Rupture". It is a very timely topic being given the severity of the state of the planet undergoing climate change by pollution force. The subject is especially relevant as it is also the choice of the Planetworkshops's committee to get into the dynamic to advance on the upcoming COP21 Paris (See THERE IS NO PLANET Article B AS SAID BAN KHI MOON AND AS IT SAYS JOHN KERRY

THE FRAME OF "THE PLANET-WORKSHOPS" IS AN ORIGINAL AND UNLIKELY WAY OF GATHERING ACTORS OF RUPTURE-----

Nobody has the holy truth, and nobody is right or wrong, as the debates are open and making all of the participates and attendees to express freely their opinions. The frame of the whole conference is one of a kind as the attendees and participants, speakers, journalists, organisers are invited to share their experiences around a dinner, luncheon and tie breaks. France in such circumstances the unique setting of the Chateau de Chantilly, with Stables Chantilly Estate knows how to entertain and pamper its guests. The conferences were therefore held in the space of this architectural masterpiece of the eighteenth century, "the Grand Stables" built by the architect Jean Aubert Louis-Henri de Bourbon, 7th Prince de Conde, real palace for horses. The building houses the Horse Museum, which shows the relationship between man and horse since the early civilisations. Gourmet and light meals are punctuates the progress of these three days of exchanges during the workshops of the Earth. Wine testing sessions of orchestrated by a sommelier. The first day was concluded with a special spiritual evening "A militant spirituality for a greater responsibility of citizens" [7]. The workshop was animated by Sonia HENRY, Programs Director of The Planetworkshops; and Founder, of Green Earth Influence (France) alongside T8aminik Ranquin a Native American Spiritual Leader also Algonquin Hereditary Chief (Canada) and Fr. Dominique Lang, Assumptionist Priest. The interactive session rotated around the emergence of rules sensitive to environmental emergencies based on the ancient principle Primum non laedere: First, do not hurt? An can we talk today about a new spiritual ethic for Planet Earth? That was the climax of the day, through this very special moment mobilising spiritual energies of each around an original and useful theme for the man and his Ecosystem, as an entity responsible for the planet.

TO FINISH IN DELIGHT WITH CHANTILLY CREAM-----The only regret if we could have, is the missing of the tasting of a so delicate "Chantilly cream " (Original Whipped Cream) to honour the legend of this most famous creme gourmet world ! The real regret is that this event full of exchanges of debates, frank consultations centric focus the collective interest of the Earth and emergencies from which the Planet suffers in a better sustainable development, is too short, although intense. This conference is to renew in all respects under the same quality format by stakeholders and the choice of subjects and the development human set up, according to the tempo of "Planetworkshops".----- Follow our next publication about GlobalConference2015 including, the interview of Eric Bazin cofounder of "The Planetworkshops "with George Gendelman and the short story about Chantilly Cream.-----For more information see: www.globalconference2015.org/fr, <http://worldline.com/en-us/home/media-center/events.html>, www.planetworkshops.org, www.ecomaires.com, www.africafrance.org, www.oree.org, http://www.lesechos.fr/16/04/2015/lesechos.fr/02112790729_l-empire-bollere-des-ports-africains-aux-batteries-au-lithium.htm#DM0Y7vROVgH80BX.99, <http://www.bollere-africa-logistics.com/medias/communiques-de-presse/inauguration-bluezone-zongo.html>-----
