right now, 62 million girls across the globe aren't going to school at all.	in fact,

That's why, last spring, President Obama and I launched Let Girls Learn, a new initiative to help adolescent girls across the globe go to school. Through Let Girls Learn, we'll be helping communities around the world create girls' leadership and mentorship projects, build school bathrooms for girls (because sometimes, schools don't have adequate bathroom facilities for girls, which is one of the reasons why they can't attend school), and more. We'll also be funding girls' education programs in countries that are torn apart by war or violence, and we'll be working to address issues like poverty that make it hard for girls to get an education (because their families can't afford to send them to school)."
